

GGIRL Technologies and the Velvet Ecosystem

Current architecture, product naming, lifecycle status and public-claims boundaries

Publisher	GGIRL Technologies LLC
Version	1.2
Publication date	September 15, 2026
Document type	Current public record

Current-record notice. This paper is the September 15, 2026 current public architecture and status record. Earlier v1.0 and v1.1 papers remain available as dated historical documents and are not silently rewritten.

1. Scope and Version Authority

This document records the current public structure as of September 15, 2026. It does not replace or erase the earlier v1.0 or v1.1 public records. When an older paper conflicts with current product naming, product definitions or lifecycle status, this current record and the live product-status authority control present-day website claims.

Development status remains evidence-based. Public access, server-live work, phone proof, field proof, and full launch readiness are distinct states.

2. Company and Ecosystem Architecture

GGIRL Technologies LLC is the company. Velvet is the connected product and intelligence ecosystem. Products are purpose-built surfaces that may share approved identity, intelligence, communication, media, wallet/payment and governance infrastructure without becoming one undifferentiated application.

One company. One connected ecosystem. Distinct products with clear authorities.

3. Current Product Map

01 - Good Girl Coin ($GGIRL)	Live Solana digital asset. Broader ecosystem utility and participation rewards remain status-qualified by feature.
02 - Velvet Wayz	AI-assisted navigation and road-intelligence system at active proof-of-concept stage, with live-proven components and continuing road/device validation.
03 - Velvet Direct	Private walkie-talkie and exploration app in active development; current core access is free while field acceptance continues.
04 - Velvet Room	Social-media and creator-monetization platform in active development; not publicly launched.
05 - Velvet Eye	User-facing AI presence and co-pilot in development with partially verified components.
06 - Velvet Wallet + Velvet Pay	One planned public product surface with two functions: user-controlled wallet capabilities and approved payment/settlement infrastructure.
07 - Velvet Line	Communication and calling layer in development and partially implemented.
08 - Velvet Link	Planned / Roadmap dating and relationship product. Current Radar and Winq mechanics remain part of Velvet Room.
09 - Velvet Studios	Current AI creation studio with public development access through an installable PWA; music, instrumentals, creator collaboration, advertising/commercial and cinematic production workflows remain proof-gated by feature.

4. Velvet Eye and the Deeper Intelligence Architecture

Velvet Eye is the current user-facing intelligence product and personal AI co-pilot. Its deeper memory, knowledge, orchestration and decision-processing architecture belongs inside Velvet Eye rather than being presented as a separate current product.

Velvet Brain remains a historical/internal architecture term for that deeper processing layer. Current public product navigation should lead users to Velvet Eye.

5. Current Naming and Product Boundaries

- Velvet Studios is the current AI creation studio. Older dated records may use the former product name Velvet Radio. The radio/programming function remains within the Studios family.
- Velvet Direct is the current public product name. Older technical paths and identifiers may retain direct-connect compatibility naming, but visible public branding is Velvet Direct.
- Velvet Room is a social-media and creator-monetization platform. It is not the dating product; Velvet Link is the separate planned dating/relationship product.
- Velvet Wayz is the AI-assisted navigation and road-intelligence system. It remains an active proof of concept rather than a finished nationwide navigation service.
- Velvet Wallet + Velvet Pay is one public product direction with separate wallet and payment functions, not two separate downloadable apps today.

6. Product Definition Notes

Velvet Studios is software, not merely a physical recording studio. The product direction covers AI-assisted music and instrumental creation, creator collaboration, advertisements, commercials, movie-scene production and episodic/series workflows, with individual features remaining subject to their own proof gates.

Velvet Direct is an app-based private walkie-talkie and exploration experience for accepted contacts, push-to-talk communication, Trail Guide and supported outdoor coordination. It is not a business-networking product and is not a physical radio device.

Velvet Room centers on social-media publishing, audiences, creator control, community/work contexts and approved monetization paths. Dating belongs to Velvet Link rather than being used as the Room product category.

7. Good Girl Coin Role

Good Girl Coin ($GGIRL) is one live Solana digital asset connected to the evolving GGIRL ecosystem. HIM and HER are identity sides/facets of the same token, not separate tokens. Its current public role includes identity, culture and a planned company-funded participation-reward model. A token purchase is not intended to be required simply to qualify for an eligible participation reward.

No profit, appreciation, income or guaranteed return is promised.

8. Public Claims Boundary

GGIRL public materials must distinguish live digital asset, public development access, active proof of concept, in development, partially verified, and planned / roadmap. Those stages are not interchangeable.

Public access does not by itself mean a product is finished, fully field-proven, universally available or commercially complete. No product should be described as safer, more accurate, legally compliant, financially profitable or launch-ready beyond the evidence and approvals that actually exist.
